Dicks vs. Fucking Machines!

At the last Swinging Atlanta hotel party, there was a lot of fucking. As usual, after a few hours of dancing, smoozing, flirting, and a few libations, there was a lot of intercourse going on in the private rooms, as well as in the group rooms and secured hallways. Most were fucking in the conventional manner in which God intended, i.e. hard cocks penetrating wet pussies.

Hopefully, this age-old process will never go out of style. However, all you Viagra-fueled penises out there should be looking over your collective dick shoulders. The fucking machine era has arrived. And these virtual vagina-busters mean business!

To prove this penetrating point, we set-up a special room in which our recently purchased sex machines were to be debuted, including the Rolls Royce of fucking machines, our new Sybian. In all, three machines were made available for the pussy-pleasure of our patrons at this particular party. In addition to the Sybian, there was also a dildo thrusting machine, and a drill-based rotating dildo attached to a "Black and Dicker" drill.

From the outset, there were many curious admirers in the fucking room, as the ladies filtered in and out, ooing, ahing, and giggling at the various mechanical devices on display. Most were too shy (or scared shitless!) for a test drive. Eventually, however, one brave female soul opened the flood gates (literally) and agreed to give the Sybian a whirl. From that moment forward, it was off to the races!

For those unfamiliar with the Sybian, it is a machine designed to do things no human cock can do, and of course for a hell-of-a-lot longer. Simply put, this machine utilizes a rotating and vibrating dildo to stimulate the female g-spot, while simultaneously stimulating the clitoris with powerful vibrations, all of which can be controlled and manipulated by the user to her exact standards of pleasure. Can you say mind-blowing orgasms?

Well soon after this first Sybian-riding babe mounted the machine and started to cum, and cum...and cum...and cum...did a line start to form in the hall, a line of nowpussy-salivating ladies wanting their own turn on this screaming-orgasm-producing gear box. One after one, our luscious ladies took their turn riding this magical carpet of ecstasy, including intermittent stints taking advantage of the unique attributes of the other pieces of equipment. Undoubtedly however, the Sybian was the star of this evening, producing more orgasms than a whore house invaded by a hundred Chippendales Dancers on Viagra!

As for the human element, before you begin thinking that is process is just too dehumanized, consider the fact that at one particular point, in a routine check on the sanitation and proper utilization of the machines, I noted the following scenario. A particularly hot and large-breasted red-head was riding the Sybian, completely nude. As she bounced up and down on the rotating dildo and pressed her clit hard on the vibrating massager, her husband was carefully fucking her ass from behind. If that were not enough, two other very hot chicks were pleasuring her from the front by sucking her sweet, full tits and kissing her neck and lips. To say that she was cumming hard would be an understatement, like saying a tsunami is a "little wet".

Much to my delight, I am happy to report that contrary to being a dehumanizing experience, the fucking machines became a focal point for not only couples-play, but for some very hot group/orgy-play as well. For this night at least, chalk one up for the mechanical cocks!

As always, stay tuned to Swingers Corner for the all fucking 4-1-1 in the Metro Atlanta area. And if you're feeling frisky, come-out to one of our kinky affairs and check-out the machines for yourself!

Happy swinging, Atlanta!
